Discover Cascais, a surprising destination to live in with an atmosphere of glamour and full nature.
Come for one reason. Stay for many!

Cascais, on the Atlantic coast, 30 minutes from Lisbon and the international airport, is one of the most cosmopolitan and touristy places in Portugal. The mild climate and an average of 260 rain-free days a year were certainly strong reasons for the wealthiest families of the 19th century to follow the Portuguese royal house and build their villas and palaces here. If you come to Cascais looking for an oasis of relaxation, you've come to the right place. From the beaches to the Sintra Cascais Natural Park, from the swimming pools to the walks, the word stress doesn't enter the town. Cascais is an excellent area for children, including several international schools. It has nature, it has the sea, it has a town centre that can easily be explored on foot, by bicycle or by any other means of transport that is more fun for children and adults - a segway or rollerblading, for example - and it has a host of other programmes that will delight people of any age: 8 golf courses, horse riding, surfing, windsurfing, tennis, paddle tennis, cycling, walks along the beaches or through the Natural Park.
