Urban Land with Approved Project in Palmela

Urban land with 7,267 m² for sale in Quinta do Anjo, in Palmela, with strategic location and great potential for appreciation. Located in a medium-density urban area, this land is an excellent opportunity for those looking to invest in a solid project, with growing demand in the region.

The property already has an approved architectural project for a low-density private condominium, which saves time and speeds up the start of development. However, the land also offers flexibility for those who want to adapt or submit a new construction proposal.

With good access, three distinct fronts and inserted in a quiet setting with quality of life, this asset is ideal for residential projects oriented to the national or foreign market. A rare opportunity in a municipality with high demand and scarcity of qualified supply.
